

ABOUT THE ANDREAS HOTEL & SPA

A Cool and Private Oasis in the Heart of Palm Springs

Situated peacefully in the heart of downtown Palm Springs, the Andreas Hotel & Spa is a first class boutique hotel with a history as rich as the city's. Constructed in 1935 as the Royal Palms Hotel, this property was one of the most popular downtown courtyard hotels of its time.

Recently restored by its new owners, this cozy property now shines as the Andreas Hotel & Spa, one of Palm Springs' finest architectural renovations and nominee for the coveted Gold Nugget Award for Architecture and Design. Hand-forged ironwork balconies, hand-rubbed finishes, and brick pavers all reflect Old World integrity. There are 25 artistically- designed guest rooms and suites featuring marble and stone bathrooms with oversized Jacuzzi tubs and separate walk-in showers, refrigerators, coffeemakers, and microwave ovens. Hotel furnishings relate to a 1930's Spanish Revival theme while offering the modern comfort of customized pillow-top beds and convenience of data ports and cable television.

Guests love the luxury of complimentary continental breakfasts in the lobby lounge, basking poolside, and enjoying relaxing treatments in the full-service spa. And they appreciate that they can find shops, restaurants, museums and entertainment within walking distance, and are just a short hop from some of the finest golf and tennis facilities in the country.

The Andreas Hotel & Spa offers gracious service on a par with its physical amenities. General Manager Marilu Rogers was retained to run the hotel before the renovation even began, and her experience at other desert properties gave her the skill to help turn the property into an oasis of comfort and civility without any stuffiness at all. In 2005, the Palm Springs Desert Resorts Convention and Visitors Authority recognized Marilu's ability as Outstanding General Manager for Hotels 200 Rooms and Under – one of the most prestigious awards in the desert's enormous hospitality industry. Once a renowned spa fitness director, she can occasionally be found in the hotel's fitness center giving instruction to guests who "knew her when."

The Andreas Hotel & Spa is a member of SHoPS (Small Hotels of Palm Springs), the Palm Springs Hospitality Association and the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.
